A colorful illustration of a robot race track. The track is a white path with dashed lines, winding from the bottom right towards the top left. At the bottom right, a purple and yellow robot with a large head and a wide smile is positioned at the start of the track. It has a red antenna and a grey rectangular panel with four circular buttons on its back. An arrow points from the robot towards the track. In the top left, a smaller blue and orange robot is shown in mid-air, having jumped over the track. It has a round orange head and a blue body. A yellow and black battery is floating in the air above the track. A grey remote control with various buttons is on the ground near the bottom left. The background is plain white.
